|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
| Suppressing chaos in lasers by negative feedback .....                                                | R5537 |
| R. Meucci, M. Ciofini, and R. Abbate                                                                  |       |
| Absence of self-averaging in global optimization problems .....                                       | R5541 |
| Alex Hansen and János Kertész                                                                         |       |
| Proof of Lyapunov exponent pairing for systems at constant kinetic energy .....                       | R5545 |
| C. P. Dettmann and G. P. Morriss                                                                      |       |
| Instabilities on crystal surfaces: The two-component body-centered solid-on-solid model .....         | R5549 |
| Enrico Carlon, Henk van Beijeren, and Giorgio Mazzeo                                                  |       |
| Scaling properties of Lyapunov spectra for the band random matrix model .....                         | R5553 |
| T. Kottos, A. Politi, F. M. Izrailev, and S. Ruffo                                                    |       |
| Hard turbulence in rotating Rayleigh-Bénard convection .....                                          | R5557 |
| K. Julien, S. Legg, J. McWilliams, and J. Werne                                                       |       |
| Early stages of ramified growth in quasi-two-dimensional electrochemical deposition .....             | R5561 |
| John R. de Bruyn                                                                                      |       |
| Extended self-similarity in numerical simulations of three-dimensional anisotropic turbulence .....   | R5565 |
| R. Benzi, M. V. Struglia, and R. Tripiccone                                                           |       |
| Intermittency interpretation of persistent small scale anisotropy in turbulence .....                 | R5569 |
| Alan R. Kerstein                                                                                      |       |
| Dynamics of surface patterning in salt-crystal dissolution .....                                      | R5572 |
| Yuanming Liu, Li Ning, and Robert E. Ecke                                                             |       |
| Normal and anomalous scaling in a problem of a passively advected magnetic field .....                | R5576 |
| Vadim Borue and Victor Yakhot                                                                         |       |
| Field-induced thickness change of ferroelectric liquid crystal films .....                            | R5580 |
| Antal Jákli and Alfred Saupe                                                                          |       |
| Depinning transition of a directed polymer by a periodic potential: A $d$ -dimensional solution ..... | R5584 |
| S. Galluccio and R. Graber                                                                            |       |
| Interface dynamics in a block copolymer melt and the effect of noise .....                            | R5588 |
| Shigeyuki Komura, Jun-ichi Fukuda, and Glenn C. Paquette                                              |       |
| Instability of a contact surface driven by a nonuniform shock wave .....                              | R5592 |
| R. Ishizaki, K. Nishihara, H. Sakagami, and Y. Ueshima                                                |       |
